

GIANTS FIELD WELL.

Twenty-Seven Put-Outs in a Game All Made from Hits.

Stafford Expected to Be a Terror to Runners on Short H.L's.

Sympathy and Medicine for Jack Doyle from a New York Crank.

From The Evening World's Special Correspondent with the Team.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 18.—The weather prophet gave the Giants an unnecessary scare. All the boys expected to get up this morning and find a miniature cyclone dallying about this place, but instead the weather had moderated from yesterday's cold snap. The game, therefore, will be played as usual to-day.

President Freedman will leave to-morrow for New York, arriving there late Wednesday evening. Mr. Freedman is more than pleased with the showing made by the boys at practice. He had intended to remain with them until they reached New York, but business affairs called him home earlier than he wished.

Lester German and Jim Stafford arrived at the hotel late last night from an alligator hunt. The cold water that landed this place Saturday night killed their chances as far as alligators were concerned, but they brought back nearly a hundred birds.

Most of the boys took things easily yesterday, and rested after their hard week's work. Dave Doyle, Murphy and Harvey Watkins visited St. Augustine and saw all that is to be seen in that pretty place.

Upon the form shown thus far, and with corresponding improvement, there is nothing to say a streak of hard luck that can keep the Giants from landing the pennant in the coming spring. The boys have shown championship form, and especially in last Thursday's game was the playing of the regular team good.

Aside from a low throw by Wilson to catch a runner, second, the fielding was absolutely perfect. Taking into consideration the condition of the grounds, and that every one of the twenty-seven put-outs were on hits, their work was almost phenomenal, and deserves the highest kind of praise.

All of the boys have their eyes on the ball, and the catching is excellent. As Dad Clark remarked after the game: "The kind of hitting would beat most anybody's team, to say nothing of 'The Four Phishes'."

The latter, by the way, is Dad's name for the second team.

Jimmy Stafford was in the game from start to finish, and his work was great. Out of nine chances, "Jeems" accepted all without an error. He made an occasional one-hit catch of a hot liner from Murphy's bat, and several put-outs of ground balls. His throwing was beautiful, and he keeps it in his hand.

The infield for the second team presented an exceedingly funny appearance. McKin was on third, Rusie on second and Farrell on first. Rusie could not get half the time the Yale Kid could in his direction.

An amusing incident took place during the game. A foul ball was knocked over the fence, and one of the attendants saw it. He picked it up and ran toward the field. As he crossed the field, he saw a man in a suit and tie running toward the field.

One of Jacksonville's finest was present, and probably with visions of the two-point forward started in pursuit. The chase for a mile was fast and furious, and the runner finally landed the ball in the end zone. The crowd roared.

The amount of interest shown by New York cranks was made manifest to-day. The following letter was received by the Evening World:

"Hearing that Jack Doyle is suffering from dyspepsia or some other complaint, I enclose you a bottle of my medicine. I believe him, and stop him from kicking. Inclosed was a little box of pills."

A telegram from the Olympic Club of New Orleans, dated March 17, to the Evening World, reads: "The Olympic Club of New Orleans, President and Secretary, are pleased to announce that they have accepted the offer of $25,000 for the Olympic Club of New Orleans."

A suggestion to Anti-Sport Law-makers.

"Believing for prices shall constitute a felony, and all swimming, whether for a trophy or prize, is practiced within one hundred yards of the water, is declared a misdemeanor and after a conviction, a second offense shall be punishable as a felony."

CALLS GAYNOR A NASS

Assemblyman Friday Denounces the Justice.

Threatened Punishment for His Open Contempt.

The Judge Finally Appears as a Witness.

Assemblyman Wm. H. Friday, Chairman of the Committee sitting in Brooklyn to investigate the trolley strike, had not recovered from his anger and surprise over the refusal of Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor to answer the Committee's subpoena.

"This man Gaynor," said Mr. Friday, "is a ——— political trickster. He is an ass of the most pronounced type. He has disgusted both the Republican and Democratic parties to such an extent that neither of them will now have anything to do with him."

"It is simply a case of a well-bred. He thinks no man has a right to talk except William J. Gaynor. Like all convicted asses of his kind, he will soon come to grief."

"Justice Gaynor's treatment of the Committee is only what I had expected from such a man; it is only what any man who knows the man would expect. He plays for the gallery at every opportunity. This is another instance of his political acting; but think of the man who has struck the wrong house, and he'll find it out."

"As I said on Saturday, I shall report the whole matter to the Committee at Albany."

"This political scoundrel has insulted our Committee and he must be punished for it. He seems to think the Assembly is not greater or as great as his authority as the Supreme Court. He may find out whether the matter will be brought before the Grand Jury or not, I cannot say. That is for the Committee to determine after I have reported the incident to them."

The first witness before the Committee this morning was Carroll D. Wright, United States Labor Commissioner, from Washington. He was called to give expert testimony on the question of wages strikes and make known his attitude toward a possible law for compulsory arbitration.

Mr. Wright said that there had never been any compulsory arbitration law passed by Congress. The Springer bill, passed by the House, was from the strike.

Mr. Wright is in favor of having all railroad employees under the control of the city or state government.

President of the Atlantic Avenue Company, told about the attempts of Mayor Scherren to arbitrate, and how he had refused to entertain the proposition, because it contained a provision that all the strikers should be taken back.

Mr. Norton said that Mayor Scherren and the Police Department had shown no interest in the matter. He said that the end there would have been no necessity for calling out the militia.

The London Labor Conciliation Board has made an offer of mediation between the employers and the employees. The latter object to the introduction of improved American machinery, and the employers have refused to arbitrate on the ground that the operators have not been by previous decisions of the arbitrators.
